"The Body of Christ." Those words can become so familiar to us. We might recall how special they sounded the first time we received Jesus in the Sacrament of the Most Holy Eucharist. This is a good weekend for us to take a look at how awesome it really is!

When something is very special, we get ready for it. We spend lots of time preparing for Christmas and Easter, for Birthdays and even for summer vacation. We prepare ourselves before we receive the Eucharist for the first time as well. It is inspiring to see the great hunger in our First Communion kids as they look forward to that most special day.

May we never forget how awesome it is! The Church tells us that we need to prepare ourselves each time we receive the Eucharist. The founder of my Congregation, Saint Vincent Pallotti, used to say that all the time preceding the Eucharist should be a preparation for it and all the time following the Eucharist should be its continuation in our lives!

We should remember that from the moment we wake up. We need to pay attention to the way we treat one another, and even to the food and drink we consume. We are aware that we are not to eat or drink anything for at least one hour before receiving the Eucharist. It can be good to have someone in the family whose job it is to remind everybody when it's time to stop eating and drinking. We shouldn't drink coffee or even chew gum for an hour ahead of time!

Our preparation needs to show even in the way we dress for Mass. As a child I remember that my parents always told us, me and my two brothers and one sister, to put on our best clothes for Sunday Mass. There was no doubt in our mind that what we were going to do was the most special thing that would happen all week. That added to the reverence with which we approached the Eucharist.

When we go to Mass we need to bring our best self. What a challenge that is, too. Our kids will help us realize any discrepancy between the way we act at home and the behaviour that's consistent with living as a person who loves God.

As we come forward for Communion, we don't do so unconsciously. We focus on the precious Sacrament we are going to celebrate. We think about how much God loved us in giving us his Son, and how special it is that we can receive the totality of Jesus, Body, Soul and Divinity.

We don't go back to our seat and let our mind wander. We don't rush to leave Church either, before we've had a chance to thank God for the gift of the Eucharist. That takes time!

Then we hear the words, "Go in peace, to love and serve the Lord!" We truly become what we eat, the Body of Christ. As we leave for home we do so to "be" the Body of Christ in our families, at work and school, and with everyone we meet. That needs to be reflected in the kindness of our words, the respect we show for others and the love we share all week long. We don't fight with our brothers and sisters on the way home. We don't talk about our neighbour or speak in judgmental and resentful ways. We try to be patient in the parking lot and when we arrive at home.

What a great chance we are given this weekend to reflect upon how special receiving the Eucharist really is. This week we can continue to reflect on the way we approach the Eucharist. May we do so with reverence and love, and go in peace "to love and serve the Lord," with much love and enthusiasm. Have a good week!

Almighty and eternal God, look upon the Heart of Thine most-beloved Son, and upon the praises and satisfaction He offers Thee in the name of sinners; and appeased by worthy homage, pardon those who implore Thy mercy, in Thy Great Goodness in the name of the same Jesus Christ Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

Jesus, meek and humble of heart, make our hearts like unto Thine.
